Council Passes Parking Ban Measure

LIBRARY GETS NEW BURCHFIELD PAINTING — Miss Nellie Glass, librarian at the Salem Public Library, admires the oil painting, "Sunflowers and Corn," by Charles Burchfield, who gave the painting to the library as a gift from the Ford Foundation. The art work, valued at $3,500, hangs in the library's reading room which already is graced by the familiar Burchfield painting, "The Three Trees." Burchfield, a Salem native, now resides at Seneca, N.Y. He is a renowned painter who excels in water colors.

Six ordinances, including a controversial parking ban measure, were passed at a regular meeting of City Council Tuesday night. An ordinance which would open Salem's East Cold Run Reservoir for controlled fishing was among three bills which received a first reading.

The reservoir measure had been ready for a third and final reading at the March 20 Council meeting, but it was referred back to committee to be rewritten after City Solicitor Thomas Coe warned that a recent decision of the Ohio Supreme Court placed a portion of the proposed ordinance in conflict with state regulations.

Atty. Coe rewrote the ordinance to make it conform to the Supreme Court ruling, and the measure apparently will be run back through the legislative process of three separate readings.

It appears certain the reservoir

Reworded Fishing Bill Read

ordinance will be passed. But, the delays have been disappointing to sportsmen who had hoped to start fishing at East Cold Run on April 1.

Rewords Fee Section

In rewriting the ordinance, Atty. Coe reworded a section pertaining to fees to be charged for boating and fishing permits. The charge is to be an "entrance fee" rather than a license. The Ohio Supreme Court ruled in a test case brought by the city of Akron that a municipality is without owned reservoirs since that power is pre-empted by the state.

The measure still has some minor wording changes that Councilmen want made before they give it final approval.

If approved, the measure would open the 68-acre reservoir south of the city as a recreation area. In addition to controlled fishing, there are provisions for boating and picnicking.

The parking ban measure passed last night was at one time a part of a more comprehensive parking plan which got whittled away during more than a year of debate.

The legislation finally approved deals with streets where little or no controversy was raised during numerous discussions of parking ban proposals.

Still, the measure passed by only a 5-2 margin last night. Councilmen Albert Lesch (D. 1st Ward) and James Aldom (D. at-large) cast dissenting votes. Both objected to one section of the ordinance which will prohibit parking on the south side of W. Pershing St. from S. Howard Ave. to S. Ellsworth Ave.

Council had received a complaint from a resident in that area urging that parking not be removed from that street.

Purpose of the parking ban legislation is to alleviate dangerous traffic conditions and to facilitate the flow of traffic, according to Safety Committee Chairman Ralph Zimmerman (R. 4th Ward). The new measure prohibits parking on the following streets:

1. The east side of Sharp Ave. from W. State St. to W. Pershing St.
 2. The south side of W. Pershing St. from S. Ellsworth Ave. to S. Ellsworth Ave.
 3. The south side of E. Pershing St. from S. Ellsworth Ave. to Water St., except at City Hall where 15-minute parking will be permitted from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m.
 4. Both sides of E. 6th St. from Hawley Ave. to N. Union Ave., except on Sundays when parking will be permitted in front of the Christian Church. There will be no parking permitted at the curves.
 5. The west side of Newgarden Ave. from the railroad tracks to the city limits.
 6. The west side of Hawley Ave. from E. State St. north to first

U.S. Astronauts Decline Homes

Superiors' 'Qualms' Dictate Rejection

WASHINGTON (AP) — America's seven astronauts have had their minds made up for them: they are not going to accept $24,000 homes plus furnishings offered by the great heart of Texas.

Under tutelage from higher-ups and second-thought advice from their lawyer, the spacemen decided Tuesday it might be misunderstood if they accepted the new homes from the Houston Home Builders Association.

None of the spacemen was present when the National Aeronautics and Space Administration announced at a news conference that the astronauts were regretfully declining the offer.

But Lt. Col. John A. (Shorty) Powers, the "voice of the astronauts," was there, as was C. Leo DeOrsey, business adviser for the spacemen.

It was DeOrsey who had decided it was perfectly ethical for the spacemen to accept the houses in Houston, which is soon to be the home of a new $90-million manned space flight center.

Then the White House, the Pentagon and NASA began to have qualms, especially after the situation was highly publicized.

So DeOrsey got in touch with NASA and received the word, which was, in effect, thumbs down. He communicated with Lt. Col. John H. Glenn Jr., the nation's first astronaut.

Red Cross Bloodmobile Here April 17

The North Ohio Red Cross Blood Program bloodmobile will be stationed here April 17 from 12 to 6 p.m. in the United Steel Workers of America Hall on Prospect St. Members of the Salem Republican Women's Club will serve and provide food for the patients.

Louis Raymond Jr., blood chairman for North Columbiana County Chapter of the American Red Cross, said union members, whose support and contributions to the blood program have played an important part in keeping the program active in this area, are hopeful of exceeding Salem's quota of 125 pints at this collection.

To make plans for recruiting a sufficient number of donors, Charles L. Hinchliffe, staff representative of United Steel Workers, asks all union presidents and blood program representatives to meet with Raymond Monday at 3:30 p.m. in the USWA Local office at 241 E. State St.

Urging others in the community to assist in carrying out this program, Raymond asks that all who are between the ages of 18 and 59 and in good health, register as prospective donors by calling the Red Cross office.

BOY HURT IN FALL

LISBON—Terry Tullis, sixth grade student at Lincoln School, was taken to Salem City Hospital Tuesday after he fell off a swing in the school playground. His family physician said he was unable to move his legs and arms. Terry is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Tullis of 320 Pine St.

Reno Hotel Burns; Death Toll Unknown

RENO, Nev. (AP) — Fallen floors and inner walls and charred gambling equipment formed a blackened mass for searchers to probe today after a 10-hour hotel fire in the downtown casino district. The death toll couldn't be determined until wrecking crews toppled dangerously weakened walls later in the day.

Authorities said an unidentified middle-aged woman had perished in the blaze which destroyed the historic and newly remodeled New Golden Hotel.

But three hotel entertainers and more than a score of guests were unaccounted for at a late hour Tuesday night.

"It doesn't take much smoke to kill, and there's a hell of a lot of it in that building," a fire chief said, fearing some of the guests had been trapped in the four-story building. Seventeen persons were injured.

As soon as the fire was out, business resumed its usual hectic pace at gambling palaces just across an alley from the hotel. Some neighboring buildings were damaged in the area on Center Street, just off Virginia Street and separated from the largest casinos by Douglas Alley.

The fire broke out Tuesday morning, apparently from an exploding basement boiler or acetylene tank.

Patrons at nearby Harold's Club fled the smoke as owner Harold Smith Jr. fiddled to prevent panic.

Most guests raced down fire escapes or were led down ladders by firemen. A big cement bucket on a crane felled the hotel's false front, creating an escape route for others.

But members of the hotel's show, "Playmates of 1962," said a Hollywood chorus girl, Carol Maye, 20, apparently did not escape from a fourth-floor window where she stood screaming.

Police theorized that most of the guests unaccounted for had left town without leaving word. For awhile 70 guests were unreported, but by late Tuesday night 31 had been located or had called in.

New Golden officials could come no closer to a damage estimate than "millions." The hotel was remodeled for $250,000 six years ago and in 1960 began staging Las Vegas-style bare-bosom chorus girl productions.

Minerva Girl Struck by Auto

3 Persons Injured In Truck-Car Crash

An 11-year-old Minerva area girl, who was struck by a car as she ran across a road near her home, was one of four persons injured in two of four traffic mishaps on area highways Tuesday and this morning.

Katherine Sue Krizon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Krizon of RD 2, Minerva, suffered a laceration of the right leg and a bump on the head when she was struck by a car at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday on Rt. 30, about one mile east of the Stark County line. She was treated by a Minerva physician.

The Ohio Highway Patrol said the girl had waited for several cars to pass, then darted across the highway into the path of an eastbound car operated by Ray L. Miller, 31, of Minerva.

Three members of a Wellsville area family were treated by a Lisbon doctor for injuries received in a two-car accident on Township Road 900, about four miles southeast of Rt. 30, at 2 p.m. Tuesday.

Injured were: Viola Shields, 57, of RD 1, Wellsville, contusions of the scalp and left knee.

Hobart Shields, 65, same address, contusions of the left knee. Patricia Shields, 17, same address, contusions of the scalp and left knee.

All three were riding in a pickup truck driven by Shields. The Patrol said Richard Simballa, 31, of RD 3, Lisbon, pulled off Township Road 900 into the path of the truck. Simballa was cited for failure to yield.

Tax Payments 'In Protest' Are Suggested

Mahoning County taxpayers dissatisfied with property reappraisals were advised to pay their taxes "under protest" when the Mahoning County Township Trustees and Clerks Association met Tuesday evening at the Petersburg fire station.

Assistant County Prosecutor Elwyn Jenkins, who spoke at the meeting and told of taxpayers' suits that were being filed to set aside the recent property reappraisal, agreed that the "paid under protest" notations on any taxes paid would lend support to plans to challenge the property valuation figures.

April 14 is the deadline for payment of real estate taxes in Mahoning County.

Tax assessments in some instances have risen as much as 50 percent.

Council Gets Street Figures

City's Resurfacing Cost Set at $46,000

Firm cost estimates on five city streets expected to be resurfaced this summer were presented to City Council Tuesday night by Albert Lesch (D. 1st Ward), chairman of the streets, alleys and sidewalks committee.

The estimates were prepared by City Engineer F. S. Barckhoff, Jr.

The streets and the total estimated cost of each project is as follows:

1. Columbia St. from S. Lincoln to Broadway ($8,629.40).
2. S. Broadway from State St. to Euclid ($30,930.12).
3. Second St. from Jennings Ave. to N. Lincoln ($13,452.92).
4. Jennings Ave. from State St. to the end of the curbing ($24,300.02).
5. Franklin St. from Broadway to S. Ellsworth ($4,788.26 if asphalt is used or $21,425.04 if concrete is used).

City Solicitor Thomas Coe was instructed to draw up resolutions of necessity for the S. Broadway, Second St. and Jennings Ave. projects. If the resolutions are approved, the next step would be to introduce an ordinance authorizing the city to advertise for bids and enter into contracts for the resurfacing jobs.

A resolution of necessity on the Columbiana St. project has already been passed.

Booher Pleads Guilty to Holdup-Rape

LISBON—James Richard Booher, 25, of Poland, pleaded guilty to armed robbery and rape when he appeared at a hearing Tuesday before County Judge Bruce Black of Sebring.

He was bound over to the Mahoning grand jury under $15,000 bond.

Booher's confession was in connection with the robbery and rape of a saleswoman at a model home site on Rt. 62, between Salem and Westville, March 17. Booher was identified by the victim at a subsequent lineup at the county jail.

Monday Booher pleaded not guilty in the Eastern County Court at East Palestine to the armed robbery of the Al Ferguson Market northeast of Columbiana March 21. He was ordered held to the Columbiana County grand jury under $5,000 bond by Judge Herbert E. Arfman.

Booher allegedly committed four armed robberies during March. The other two were at the Casa Loma Night Club on Rt. 14, a mile west of Unity, and the Johnson Clothing Store in East Palestine. In each case he was later identified by employees.

County Prosecutor G. William Brokaw said the Ferguson hold-up case will be presented to the grand jury Thursday.

Desegregation Deadline Set

N. Orleans Ordered To Act by Next Fall

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — U.S. Dist. Judge J. Skelly Wright has thrown out an integration slowdown law and ordered desegregation of the first six grades of all New Orleans public schools next fall.

The sweeping order Tuesday brought from a Louisiana legislative leader promises of drastic action next month. Members of the Orleans Parish Board said they would appeal.

Taken desegregation is now in effect in six scattered elementary schools in the city.

Wright's ruling came a week after Archbishop Joseph Francis Rummel ordered desegregation of all Catholic parochial and private schools next fall and in the midst of a furore over excommunication threats against some leading Catholic segregationists.

In addition to speeding up desegregation, Wright's order declared the application of Louisiana's pupil placement law in New Orleans unconstitutional. He did not rule on its application in the rest of the state. Every Louisiana city operates a segregated school system.

This knocked out one of the last rear-guard actions by the Louisiana Legislature, State Sen. E. W. Gravolet said legislators may have an answer and promised drastic action, but he didn't say what that would be.

Theodore H. Shepard Jr., president of the Orleans Parish School Board, said he "almost definitely" will call a special meeting Friday to authorize an appeal.

Wright, a native New Orleansian and a federal judge for 11 years, issued the original order desegregating the city's public schools. When the order was implemented on Nov. 14, 1960, white parents withdrew their children almost en masse from the two elementary schools which accepted Negro first graders.

Gov. Jimmie H. Davis took control of the city's schools in an attempt to head off desegregation, but the action was nullified by a panel of federal judges.

Gen. Walker To Testify On Muzzling

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker, who quit the Army with a sharp statement that cold war efforts were being suppressed, testifies today before the Senate subcommittee investigating muzzling of the military.

Walker, a key figure in the dispute over how much freedom of expression should be given to an officer should have to speak out against communism, resigned his commission last November after the Army admonished him for his troop indoctrination program and relieved him of command of the 24th Division in Germany.

Walker contended the action destroyed his usefulness in uniform and he would have to carry on his fight against communism "free of the power of little men who, in the name of my country, punish loyal service to it."

Walker is now a Democratic candidate for the governorship of Texas.

When he resigned, Walker said: "Cold war efforts, indoctrination and training have been unrealistically suppressed and censored—and are not in consonance with the existing state of war, infiltration and aggression, in providing the security and protection of the nation or the soldier from exposure to the enemy."

Walker's statement on resigning was issued by the office of Sen. Strom Thurmond, D-S.C., whose Senate speeches charging censorship of anti-Communist speeches delivered by military officers led to the present investigation.

Reds Offering Unattractive Choice In Berlin Bargaining

By CARL HARTMAN
BERLIN (AP)—In the bargaining between the United States and the Soviet Union over Berlin, the Soviets appear to be offering an unattractive choice: pull western troops out of West Berlin or let the Soviets join them there on an equal basis.

The Soviets already have a small foothold in West Berlin.

They help man a permanent installation at Spandau Prison for major Nazi war criminals, in the British sector.

The Berlin air safety center in the American sector has a regular Soviet staff.

There are no western installations across the wall in Red-ruled East Berlin, though American, British and French troops still keep up regular patrols there.

Soviet Premier Khrushchev first suggested sending substantial numbers of Soviet troops into West Berlin. He brought it out three years ago as an alternative to his proposal of garrisoning West Berlin with United Nations forces. The West turned down both these ideas.

Now the choice have come up again as part of a possible package deal. Such a deal would include some form of international guarantee that people from the western nations and people from West Berlin could travel back and forth across the Red-ruled territory leading to Berlin.

President Kennedy has suggested that the road route between West Berlin and West Germany might be internationalized. Walter Ulbricht, the East German communist leader, suggested that his satellite regime control all access to Berlin—land, canal and air—with an international body to settle disputes. The Soviets proposed a similar deal in their talks with Secretary of State Dean Rusk at Geneva.

TV Weathermen Pick Up Harsh Critics In Summer

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — With the blooming of the first daffodil and the return of the urge to get out of doors, the chatty band of television weather reporters start picking up stern critics—people whose business is affected by predictions of bad weather.

Sometimes, it appears, forecasts are inaccurate. Sometimes viewers misunderstand those evening meteorological chalk-talks. The result is that outings to the beach, motor trips or tickets to outdoor shows are canceled—needlessly.

Last summer the head of a large travel bureau became so angered by what he called "dramatized but misleading" television weather forecasts that he fired off a complaining telegram to the Federal Communications Commission.

There have been reports from beach resorts about concessionaires left with huge supplies of unconsumed hot dogs and hamburgers when anticipated crowds failed to arrive—after weather forecasts inaccurately predicting stormy weather.

What these people prefer, apparently, is for weather reporters to inform the audience what the weather is doing at the moment (which they know anyway) and to make a big secret about the future—an unlikely situation.

Most of us appreciate educated guesses about tomorrow's weather today, but also most of us could dispense with all those maps and comment about lows and highs and pressure systems. I could also dispense happily with the time-filling chatter of the forecasters. In my area we've got one weather girl who helps fill the five minutes by strumming a ukulele and singing little songs.

One of the big airlines currently is conducting an experimental advertising campaign on radio that is a real weather service—announcing on an hourly basis local weather conditions, flying conditions and whether planes are arriving and taking off on schedule.

Boat Overturns; Three Youths Drown

CAMBRIDGE, Ohio (AP)—The swift, high waters of Wills Creek swallowed up three boys shortly before dark Tuesday while two others swam to safety after their boat capsized.

Firemen, deputies and highway patrolmen dragged the creek through the night for the bodies of Harold Wolfe, 17; Billy Crawford, 15, and Tommy Mitchell, 11.

But by early today, none had been found, with debris in the swollen creek hampering efforts. Jack Gray, 17, and Charles Stephens, 15, lived to tell the tale of the misadventure near the city limits.

All the boys lived in Cambridge except Stephens of Bloomfield, Muskingum County.

The five youths were in a 15-foot craft when its motor quit. They began paddling, but all got on one side of the boat and it overturned.

Stephens made it to shore. Gray escaped with the help of Emil Choma of Rt. 1, Cambridge, who was driving along the creek and spotted the boy hanging onto a tree limb.

If Vacancy Average Continues

JFK Could Make Three More High Court Appointments

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy could make three or more appointments to the Supreme Court—even before his first term ends in 1965—if vacancy averages continue.
Four of the justices—Earl Warren, Hugo L. Black, Felix Frankfurter, William O. Douglas—because of age or length of service—have exceeded the average age or length of service of Supreme Court justices.
But, because of the composition of the court, if all four of those men were to retire before 1965, Kennedy at most could add to the liberal view on the court by no more than one appointment.
Warren, Black and Douglas vote consistently on the liberal side. Frankfurter, compared with them, has been pretty much a conservative since he went on the court in 1939.

The opportunity which came to Kennedy last week to name Byron R. White to the court to succeed Justice Charles E. Whittaker was unusual, as the averages go. Whittaker had served only five years. The average time on the court for all 93 justices from the beginning has been 16 years.
The nine-man court which Whittaker just left has been pretty much split between liberals and conservatives, with some little shifting around on individual cases they decided.
While not much is publicly known about White, even though he had been deputy attorney general a year, it's unlikely he will run with the conservatives for an obvious reason.
Kennedy's programs, while neither as suddenly new or startling as those of President Franklin D. Roosevelt in his early New Deal days, are more or less liberal.

It might be nice to think a president—at least one as active as Kennedy—is simply interested in picking the man most scholarly in the law without concern for his views.
That doesn't fit. At this time in American history it's a certainty Kennedy wouldn't pick for the court a Southern judge or lawyer who is also a segregationist.
If it is granted that he wouldn't do that, then it must be conceded a justice's viewpoint means something to the President. Then the only question left is how much a justice's viewpoint means to him.
The President hasn't discussed that publicly. But he has spoken highly of White's qualifications and said he was recommended by the American Bar Association for the appointment.
Warren, Black, Douglas and Justice William Brennan Jr. make up what has been called the liberal bloc on the court. On the conservative side were Frankfurter, and Justices Tom C. Clark, John M. Harlan, Potter Stewart and, generally, Whittaker.
Thus, if White's thinking is along liberal lines, he has tipped the balance toward the liberal side.
This would be undone if Warren, Black or Douglas quit—or if all three were to step down before 1965—and Kennedy replaced them with one or more conservatives.
If Frankfurter quit and Kennedy replaced him with a liberal—and there was no other change—the balance of the court would be liberal.
But if Frankfurter quit and was replaced by a conservative—while the rest of the present court remained unchanged—there would still be some nip and tuck decisions.
There is, however, no sign that Warren, Black, Douglas or Frankfurter has it in mind to get out.
The average age at which all 93 justices in American history left the bench through retirement or death has been 67½ years. Warren is 71, Black, 76, Frankfurter, 79.
Black has already served 24½ years, Frankfurter, 23 and Douglas 23—all well above the average of 16 years for all of the justices of the past.
Neither Warren, Black nor Frankfurter—all in the 70s—would be setting any record if they stayed another 10 years or so. Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes was the oldest justice who ever served. He stayed till he was 91.

Hoping For a Grand Gesture

Every Supreme Court appointment gives the president of the United States a chance to show how he feels about the authority of his office.

He is under pressure to make a political appointment — one that will help his political party.

He is under pressure to make a regional appointment — one that will show his high regard for some particular section of the country.

He is under pressure "to take care" of someone who is especially deserving — a friend, an associate, or perhaps the friend of a friend.

Idealists hope for the best. They hope a president will look for the man who would bring most distinction to the Supreme Court.

The disenchanted expect the worst. They are prepared for a president to tap for the highest judicial honor whoever is handiest and promises to do him the most good.

This now is President Kennedy's situation between idealism and disenchantment. Associate Justice Charles Evans Whittaker is retiring from the Supreme Court. The Kennedy administration, which has been packing the federal district courts with appointees almost uniformly noted for their devotion to the Democratic party, now has a chance to put on the U.S. Supreme Court an appointee noted for learning in the law. It might even be a Republican.

The people of the United States — even the Democrats — would welcome a grand gesture. Or if that is expecting too much, they would welcome a gracious gesture. The least they have a right to expect is that the young President's first Supreme Court appointment should not go to a political time-server in the Democratic party.

No One Worries About That

Is the rural citizen of the United States really a haysced despot who has been lording it over under-represented city people in state legislatures?

Is the cartoon version of the farmer as a querulous, arrogant threat to representative democracy to be found in real life?

What about the line of thought followed since the United States Supreme Court ruled in the Tennessee apportionment case that citizens may look to the federal courts for relief if legislatures fail to provide proper representation? Where is it leading?

The truth is no one knows where the line of thought may lead eventually. The Supreme Court has declared that relief may be sought but has not spelled out a remedy.

Nevertheless, the line of thought already has led to better understanding of one of the puzzles of representative government — What should it representatives represent?

IT WAS NEVER INTENDED that they should represent mere numbers of human beings. To keep that from happening was a main concern of the Founding Fathers, who abhorred the thought of government based on numbers.

Some legislators were to represent sovereignty instead of population—the senators. Even legislators representing population were not to represent numerical totals. Some people were barred by sex, some by age, some by inability to meet arbitrary standards. No one trusted totals.

To this day—and the fact needs to be acknowledged—there is the same mistrust of numerical representation. It is deepened by demonstrations in national elections that massed votes manipulated by big-city political "machines" confront the United States with gross political distortion in presidential elections.

IN EACH populous state the strategy of the "majority party" is to concentrate enough strength in large cities to cancel out the scattered opposition in smaller cities, suburban areas and rural districts and thereby captures the electoral vote of an entire state. In the 1960 presidential election a difference in the popular vote of 17-hundredths of one per cent gave control of the White House to John Kennedy instead of Richard Nixon, because big-city machines in states like Illinois swamped the totals in Kennedy's favor and sewed up electoral votes.

No one is worried about that, but suddenly there is a worry epidemic about the possibility a few rural legislators may be standing between the big-city "machines" and their bosses' ambition to dominate state legislatures with the numbers game they have mastered in presidential elections.

Oops, a Short Circuit

A Strategic Air Command announcement that a goof-up in its early warning system put the United States on a full alert last fall for a few seconds beefs up the darkest fears of all of us who are skeptical of the claimed infallibility of electronics.

The information comes on top of a protest by the Air Force against reliance on computer "judgment" for the Pentagon decision to go slow on development of a new weapons system based on a superbomber still in the planning stage. The Air Force position is that computer "judgment" is less to be trusted in these matters than human judgment.

Human judgment admits it is fallible; it is human to err.

But the proposition that computer "judgment" is somehow infallible and no mistakes are possible in the electronics era does not ring true. There can always be a short circuit. Or, as SAC chooses to explain the false alert last fall, there can be confusion over "compatibility of terms."

Wars have been started in the past because human beings made mental mistakes. They were misinformed. They were wrong-headed. They were malicious, over-ambitious and in some cases insane.

The possibility of wrong decision will not be eliminated in the electronics era. It will be speeded up. Fortunately, the possibility of undoing error will be speeded up, too, provided the human mind does not yield entirely to the claimed superiority of electronics.

Come summer and folks will take a vacation to get away from worries and then return home to get a lot of bills to worry about.

Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Newly appointed Supreme Court justice is Byron White, once famed All-American college football player and pro-star. This could speed up court but there is no chance it will number judges and replace black robes with "jerseys." There is little if any opposition to appointment. This is natural since White was always a winner over "interference" and would-be blockers.

Nickname of "Whizzer," which he held in gridiron days, will sound good to public as contrasting with high court slowness. Man in street is confident football star on bench will not be inclined to 5-4 scores in Blackstone Bowl.

White met John Kennedy in London 22 years ago and later in Solomon Island waters in PT exploits. Sportswriters might classify bench appointment as longest forward pass in history.

Supreme Court justice who has quick reflexes, speed and is never likely to stop during a stirring broken-field run to file a dissent will make hit with people.

High court has seemed to have too many kickers and too few ground-gainers.

There have been times when members have appeared to be playing two different games, running in both directions with ball and even reaching goal posts without ball. Fumbling has often been charged.

White is Colorado University, Rhodes Scholar and Yale man. He could be the first man to relieve tense moments in judicial huddles by singing the Whiffenpoof song. He worked way through law school as pro football halfback.

Since those days he has had great career as lawyer and public servant. Football is far behind him, but his appointment gives public the impression the high court may look more like a team, attacking problem without split formations, seldom having trouble locating goal posts and in one group on same team at the final whistle.

Probable complaint of Jacqueline to the President upon her return: "You here in a nice cool war and me out there climbing on one elephant after another and trying to look happy."

President Kennedy may not be playing much touch football these days but he's been doing some mighty fancy broken field running — especially on the labor front.

During the steel crisis it was touch and go right up to the last minute. Behind the scenes last week John Kennedy and his interference runner, Arthur Goldberg, pulled off one of the most intricate plays in the field and saved the power and prestige of steel union leader Dave McDonald.

There was, for example, the fast shifting which came at the President's press conference Thursday morning. The President said, "I am hopeful in the next few days we'll have an agreement, but it must depend on the judgment of the responsible union bodies. . . . The steel contract, of course, has not been agreed to."

President Kennedy said this blandly 12 hours after he had been telephoned directly by Dave McDonald from Pittsburgh. The union chief told the chief executive it was all over and that it was a "fine" agreement.

BUT IT WAS VITAL that no one outside the intimate circle get the impression anything had been signed or even initialed. Traditionally, when labor-management executives at the summit agree inside that tight little bargaining room after months of publicly hating each other, they turn to their lawyers and tell them to draw up the shortest memorandum possible. Sometimes it has been done on one page. Sometimes three or four are required.

Such a memo was drawn up very late last Tuesday and Wednesday morning. But neither side initialed it as past leaders have done before they turned the details over to the computers—men and machines.

Why? Because once before—in late February — McDonald had given his people the impression he had yielded to the pressure of John Kennedy and Arthur Goldberg and had surrendered too much. And because many on the inside knew that Arthur Goldberg then, as now, had worked out the contract in almost daily conversations with both sides.

THE IMPRESSION was backed by the news of the President's secret conference with Goldberg, McDonald and U.S. Steel's Roger Blough.

And the rank and file, and a bloc of their strongest leaders, just did not want and do not want the government writing contracts for them.

So the first set of conferences —and the basic understanding—blew up. Then the Midwest bloc of steel union leaders told McDonald not to agree to or even initial anything on paper until they brought in their own lieutenants. McDonald promised. Goldberg briefed the President on this in detail.

The Midwest opposition bloc of the union's district directors consists of the leaders of hundreds of thousands of plant workers in the nation's thickest steel belt.

They make up an interesting combination — not generally known to the public — which could cripple steel production if they called out their followers.

Most of them are in hard-hit areas. Most powerful is Joe Germano, leader of the Chicago-Calumet district. He probably is the single most influential official in America.

BEHIND GERMANO are some 125,000 steel mill hands in that district. His votes can make or break McDonald.

Another "rebel" is Jim Griffin, leader of the Youngstown, Ohio area — in which are the tens of thousands employed by Youngstown Sheet and Tube, Republic Steel, U.S. Steel plants — and other plants.

Then there is Bill Hart, a militant force in the Pittsburgh region. There he influences some of the smaller districts (as union sections are called).

It was this group, plus some allies, which wanted plantwide instead of departmental seniority, immediate longer vacations, three months sabbaticals after 20 years and higher special unemployment benefits. They knew the cost. And it does cost.

The first year the package will cost about $4 per man for a man on a 40-hour week. They will push for a wage increase next year. So the cost of a two-year contract will run much higher. Everybody knows this. But a strike this year was not wanted — not by the President, nor by Goldberg, nor by the industry, nor by McDonald.

So they all bought peace with time. Next year heavy cash will have to be paid for such peace.

Executive Blackmail

By DAVID LAWRENCE

School Funds Withheld From Segregated Areas

A passion to win the votes of minority groups seem to have taken precedence in the policies of President Kennedy over the plain requirements of the Constitution. It also seems to have affected Abraham Ribicoff, secretary of health, education and welfare, who is about to enter the race for United States senator in Connecticut.

Congress has passed a law giving financial aid to schools in what are known as "federally impacted areas," where children of military and other government personnel are educated. The statute doesn't say a word about the desegregation question. Yet the President now has ordered the Department of Health, Education and Welfare to withhold federal funds from the schools in those areas unless they are desegregated.

Members of Congress are calling it "blackmail of the highest order." Newspapers in some of the districts affected are calling it a violation of the Constitution.

Secretary Ribicoff is reported by the Southern School News — an information service on education — as having said two months ago that funds would not be withheld because Congress had not made desegregation a condition for receipt of the money and that, until Congress did so, he would continue to disburse the funds to "segregated as well as desegregated schools alike."

About a year ago, Mr. Ribicoff said: "I think it is a tragedy to put on the back of education the problems of everything, including the problem of civil rights."

But last week a ruling was nevertheless issued by Secretary Ribicoff to withhold funds from areas where the schools are not desegregated within the next year.

The Sarasota, Fla., Herald Tribune, calling attention to these inconsistencies of Mr. Ribicoff and to the effect of the new ruling on certain schools in Florida, says in an editorial:

"Is this upholding the spirit and the letter of the Constitution — a document that establishes a system of checks and balances giving Congress the power to enact laws and ordering the president to 'take care that all laws be faithfully executed'?"

"Each time the executive branch of the U.S. government makes an end run around Congress, our system of checks and balances is further eroded and our Constitution weakened, no matter how 'worthy' and 'moral' the cause. This is the implication of Mr. Ribicoff's action."

It is being asserted in Washington that, since legislation on the subject of desegregation can't get through Congress, only the President, acting on his own, can accomplish the change — in other words, that "the end justifies the means."

This is the cry that used to be heard when an impassioned and unreasoning group of citizens lynched an alleged murderer without waiting for a trial. The argument always was: "Why wait for a court order when he's guilty anyhow?"

SCARCELY a month goes by that this argument, in one form or another, isn't being used in Washington with respect to circumventing the Constitution.

The school of thought which is gaining headway here these days is the one that believes an executive ruling can get around the Constitution.

President Kennedy apparently has become a believer in this philosophy. He recently issued an executive order declaring that anyone who sells goods or services to the government — and more than $50 billion of contracts are involved — must agree in advance to conform, in effect, to the government's edict concerning the employment of persons of a certain color.

Does the Constitution really give the power to the chief executive to tell an employer whom he shall hire just because he sells goods or services to the federal government?

Nowhere in the Constitution is anything said on the subject.

The Supreme Court of the United States unfortunately has in certain cases closed the door to judicial appeal by aggrieved citizens. This completes the picture of what may be truly called dictatorial power by the chief executive.

Congress, however, not only can pass a law assuring judicial appeal but also can limit the power of the chief executive to use federal funds as a form of economic blackmail.

CONGRESS, moreover, has the right to appropriate funds in the first place.

What President Kennedy and Secretary Ribicoff really have done is to sound the death knell of federal aid to education for a large number of Democrats will not vote for financial aid to schools and colleges if this is to be used as a means of forcing desegregation and otherwise controlling education by order from Washington.

Also a large number of members of Congress of both parties who are opposed to the use of federal funds in schools and colleges where religion is taught now may be confronted by the such funds can be allocated or withheld at the will of a president.

Court orders are understandable in the desegregation controversy, but to use the executive order as a means of withholding federal funds unless the wishes of the executive are followed is an attempt to secure conformity by coercion.

Traffic Lights Gotta Go

By TRUMAN TWILL

A conviction has been creeping up on me a long time. I think the creeping started one morning when I waited until the traffic light turned green and almost pulled out in front of a car that must have been moving at a 60-per clip. The driver was crashing the light.

My life was spared that morning because I never did take traffic lights at their mechanical word; I always look to see who may be about to violate this mechanical monitor.

Lately, a conviction that automatic traffic lights can be a monstrosity as often as they're a blessing has been hardening up like patching plaster. I think a movement should get under way immediately to take them down at all places where they serve no good purpose.

In many places where they would be left up, moreover, they would be used only at specified periods of each day. Let's face the truth about these mechanical monitors.

They were an easy way out for politicians and politically sensitive traffic "engineers" who needed a way to get off the spot.

They were something public authority could bestow on a complaining public to hush its mouth when it began to blabber "There oughta be something done. . ."

But what has done most to convince me that traffic lights are not only useless but can be dangerous when misused is my experience with a busy 4-way-stop intersection that can handle more traffic with less confusion than any intersection I've ever seen, though the intersection is badly designed.

When traffic flow slows off, moreover, traffic moves easier and faster. That ultimate absurdity of the automobile era, the needless stop and wait for a mechanical traffic controller operatin in a vacuum, is eliminated.

The intersection's efficiency is highlighted by the fact some knucklehead gave some other knucklehead permission to maintain a 24-hour traffic light a few blocks away that has no traffic to control for 23 hours a day yet stops through traffic on irresponsible mechanical impulse, inviting scofflaws to crash the thing as a gesture of disrespect.

I do not know who makes traffic lights. I do know they were oversold in this country by entrepreneurs and overbought by mental rabbits looking for a way to scurry under the fence and get away from the dogs.

These things cost a bushel of pretty pennies when they were new and have no more resale value now than steam locomotive. So charge them off to experience and get them away from places where they perform no service. And what are these places?

Generally, all places where the flow of traffic is not continuous—not subject to automatic regulation. Also generally, all places where it is feasible to keep traffic moving instead of to stop it arbitrarily for the sake of hearing its brakes squeal and its hungry engines suck up gasoline.

One way and another nuisance traffic lights have gotta go!

300 per cent as the result of the property reappraisal, township officials pointed out again at their four-and-one-half-hour-long meeting last night.

Two motions were adopted, one to restrain Mahoning County commissioners from spending money collected in excess of what the previous tax assessment yielded, and (2) that the trustees and clerks association go on record urging a change in the state law which permits the county auditor to award a contract for reappraisal work without first securing bids.

A Dayton firm, Cole and Trimble, did the Mahoning County reappraisal which has caused all the furor.

Green Township Trustees James Justice and Sam Thomas attended last night's meeting.

Justice said "protest tax payment forms" are available at the auditor's office and with many of the trustees.

A truck operated by Fred Hess, 43, of Carnegie, Pa., and a car driven by Robert W. Reash, 38, of RD 1, East Palestine, collided on Rt. 14, north of East Palestine, at 8:40 p.m. Tuesday.

The Patrol said Hess had stopped with the rear of his truck remaining on the highway. Reash, who also was east-bound, ran into the rear of the truck, causing moderate damage to both vehicles.

As a matter of fact the spacemen don't seem to have been very active either in accepting the offer in the first place or in rejecting it in the second. They left it in the hands of their lawyer, DeOrsey.

The NASA statement said the astronauts believe the free house offer was made in good faith, but "they now feel, however, that the motives of the people who made the offer and their acceptance might be misunderstood."

The Houston builders said said they were sorry the offer was turned down and indicated they were disturbed that the situation had caused embarrassment.

City Gets $12,842 Bill For Meters

Salem has an outstanding bill of $12,842 for parking meters, Mayor Dean B. Cranmer informed City Council Tuesday night.

This includes $12,285 for 270 new meters installed along the curbs downtown last fall and eight other meters purchased separately for $557.

The city traded in 11-year-old meters for the new meters. The eight meters purchased separately cost more because the city didn't have meters to trade for them. Also, individual pipes which the meters are placed on had to be purchased for the eight.

Mayor Cranmer is asking that Council agree to pay the $12,842 at a rate of $1.50 per meter per month. At this rate it would take about 28 months to pay off the debt. The Magee-Hale Park - O-Meter Co. of Oklahoma City says it will charge no interest for the meters.

Council took no action on the matter last night.

Much controversy has surrounded the purchase of the meters. City Auditor Helen Coyne has stated that until Council takes further action she can not legally pay for the meters, charging they were purchased by the mayor without proper authorization.

Mayor Cranmer denies this, saying he was given authorization and, in fact, was instructed by the 1961 City Council to get the new meters. The dispute has not come to a head since the parking meter firm had not presented a bill until this week.

Briefs Filed In Lisbon Sales Book Numbers Slip Case

LISBON — Briefs were filed with the 7th District Court of Appeals Tuesday by the defendants in the Lisbon Sales Book Co. numbers slip case.

The defendants are the firm and its officers, Martin Sufrin, Isadore Sufrin, Joseph Sufrin and Michael Schidlemeier, all of Pittsburgh.

At a hearing March 6, the appellate court gave the defendant until April 6 to file briefs after the court refused to grant a motion by the Lisbon firm and its officers to throw out an appeal by the state from a decision which dismissed indictments against the Lisbon company for illegally printing numbers slips.

The attorney general's office had appealed the decision by Common Pleas Court Judge Joel H. Sharp that the grand jury indictments were not in accord with state and federal constitutions.

The indictments were returned after Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy led a raid on the firm Sept. 6, 1961.

The appellate court is expected to hear the case during its next visit to the county Sept. 12.

Legislation on the Franklin Ave. project will not be started until a decision is made as to whether asphalt or concrete should be used.

Cost of each of the projects will be shared on a 50-50 basis by the city and the property owners. The city's share will be paid for out of the capital improvements fund. The cost per front foot for each of the proposed projects is as follows:

Columbia St. ($2.09). S. Broadway ($2.44). Second St. ($1.47). Jennings Ave. ($1.70). Franklin St. ($3.73 for asphalt or $16.69 for concrete).

The city plans to spend approximately $46,000 from the income tax capital improvements fund for street improvements this year.

school patrolman to be stationed at the intersection of Franklin, Maple and Aetna streets. This was passed unanimously as an emergency measure.

Also passed as emergency legislation was an ordinance authorizing Service Director James Feiler to advertise for bids and enter into contract for the purchase of a three-quarter ton truck to be equipped for use by the city electrical department. A limit of $2,800 was placed on the truck.

Two ordinances introduced by the parks and playgrounds committee received a first reading. If passed, the measures would authorize the Salem Park Commission to advertise for bids and enter into contract for the construction of three hard-surfaced tennis courts at Centennial Park and the purchase of a new utility tractor with gang mowers.

Jack Rance (R. at-large), chairman of Council's parks and playgrounds committee, said the ordinances have the unanimous approval of his committee which also includes James Aldom (D. at-large) and Ralph Zimmerman (R. 4th Ward).

Defeated Last Year

Permission to build the three hard-surfaced tennis courts last year was turned down by a narrow 4-3 vote of Council. Albert Lesch (D. 1st Ward) and Harold Astry (D. 3rd Ward), two of the councilmen who voted against the tennis courts last year, gave indications last night that they haven't changed their minds.

Astry indicated that he believes the $17,000 it is estimated the tennis courts will cost could be better used on other capital improvements projects for the parks.

Lesch said he believes some of the available funds should be used for improvements at Kelley Park on the west end of town which, he says, has been neglected in the past.

It appears the necessary four votes can be mustered in Council for approval of the tennis courts this year.

Estimate May Be High

Rance explained that the $17,000 estimate given on the three courts is believed to be more than they will actually cost. He said this figure would cover the complete cost, including excavating, the three courts and fencing.

Rance said the tennis courts probably would be the last capital improvement made at Centennial Park for some time. He pointed out that the courts would provide recreation for girls as well as for boys.

The tractor and mowers the Park Commission wants to buy would be used for maintenance work.

The parks expect to have approximately $39,000 to spend for capital improvements this year. Park capital improvements are financed by a half-mill levy approved by the voters specifically for that purpose.

Astry, who is chairman of the claims committee, reported that two persons are asking damages from the city. Mrs. William Bauman, Sr. of Damascus is asking $158.45 for injuries allegedly received in a fall on the sidewalk near the Pershing-Penn municipal parking lot on Oct. 25, 1961. The H. I. Hine Motor Co. is asking $87.24 for damage it claims was done to one of its cars on March 18 when a city street buckled under it.

Astry also requested that legislation be drawn up authorizing the city to proceed with extension of sewers to the Hillsdale district. Total cost of the project has been estimated at $15,004.33. Of this amount, the city would pay $4,737.63 out of the income tax capital improvement fund, and the property owners would be assessed the remaining $10,266.70 at a rate of $2.43 per front foot.

Referred To Committee

A request by the Farmers National Bank for permission to use six inches of city sidewalk along N. Broadway to put facing on their building was referred to a joint committee for study. Councilman Aldom said he believes approval from the state fire marshal also should be sought before Council gives its okay.

Mayor Dean B. Cranmer reported that the State Highway Department can not consider the city's request for financial assistance on resurfacing Franklin St. (State Route 558) until after July 1.

The mayor also reported that nine municipal parking lot stickers have been sold for April, May and June. The stickers, which cost $12 for three months, allow a motorist to park his vehicle in any of the three municipal lots without putting money in the meters.

Sitting in on last night's Council meeting as observers were Salem Senior High students who will be "taking over" municipal offices during the Salem Jaycees' annual "Youth in Government Week" April 15-21.

Miss Donna Jean Davis Wed to Henry Poage Jr.

The marriage of Donna Jean Davis, daughter of Mrs. Clare Davis of 1076 Highland Ave. and the late Clare Davis, and Henry Poage Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Poage of White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., was an event of March 23 at the First United Presbyterian Church.

Rev. Harold Winn, minister of the First Friends Church, officiated at the double ring ceremony before an altar banked with ferns and palms and enhanced by vases of white carnations and pink gladioli, and lighted by twin seven-branch candelabra.

Mrs. John Stein Jr. sang traditional wedding music, and Bruce Snyder presided at the organ.

Given in marriage by her mother and her uncle, Harold Ehrhart, the bride was gown in white re-embroidered silk organza with long sleeves and Sabrina neckline. Tiers of scalloped embroidered organza formed the bouffant slipper-length skirt which cascaded to a chapel train. Her silk illusion finger tip veil was held by a two-tiered crown edged with seed pearls and opalescent sequins, and she carried a Bible, topped with an arrangement of an orchid, white daisies and ivy.

Mrs. Richard Lozier Jr. was matron of honor for her sister, and bridesmaids were Mrs. John Ehrhart and Miss Charlotte Kellner.

News of Interest to Farmers

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department reports that, while Americans have become increasingly more "diet and cholesterol conscious," their total consumption of fats remains about the same as 40 years ago—an annual average of around 45 pounds.

"The only indication so far of fat consciousness," the department said in a study, "has been some tendency to shift from the solid fats to the liquids and from animal fats to vegetable fats."

As a consequence, there is a struggle between the various types of fats for the favor of the health conscious consumer. The animal fats are principally lard and butter and the vegetable fats mainly soybean, cottonseed, peanut, corn and sunflower oils.

The department said the effect of consumption of fats on health is still unsettled and must await the outcome of further research.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Agriculture Department chemists are looking for ways to enhance and modify the taste of lamb to increase its acceptance by many consumers.

Reporting this, the department said research indicates lamb meat gets its characteristic flavor from its fats, probably from minor constituents called carbonyls. Chemists say that after final determination of the taste-determining factors, it may be possible to make changes in feeding and fattening practices to make lamb meat tasteful to more consumers.

WASHINGTON (AP)—U. S. cotton is getting a smaller share of the free world export market this year than last.

The Agriculture Department reports the U. S. share has declined this marketing year in 11 countries and that takings of U. S. cotton were smaller than last in 10 countries. Countries in which the U. S. share has declined included the United Kingdom, Japan, France, Belgium, Denmark, The Netherlands and West Germany. Notable exceptions were Canada, India and Italy.

"If, as expected, U.S. exports in 1961-62 fall to around 5 million bales from 6.6 million in 1960-61, the U.S. share of the foreign free world cotton market may show some further decline during the remaining months of the current season," the department said.

WASHINGTON (AP)— Congress will have to provide the Agriculture Department's "bank" — the Commodity Credit Corp. — with more money if it is to carry out price support and other commitments for the year.

The $14.5 billion corporation was down to $1,142,436,000 as of March 1. Additional demands for 1961-crop supports are likely to reduce the amount to a $1 billion or less.

The corporation will need about $3 billion to carry out 1962 season price supports. Demand for 1962 price support loans begin in mid-summer.

The corporation had $7,718,496,000 invested in crop surpluses as of March 1. Due to it from Congress were several billion dollars that it had used to carry out a number of farm programs, including sale of surpluses for less than cost.

Congress normally restores these losses and makes up other outlays financed by the agency.

The department reported that price support program losses during the July-February period of this fiscal year were $1,374,431,000, compared with $863,361,000 a year earlier.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Farmers Home Administration reports it has about 15,000 applications for rural housing loans.

However, it will have only enough money for a small portion of these applications. Since last

MORE FOR MEAT, LESS FOR MILK — Record number of United States cattle, 99.5 million head at Jan. 1, this year, owes increase to beef cattle and calves as, number of cattle kept for milk continues to decline. It's the fourth year for overall increase in cattle numbers. Largest gains, both in numbers and percentage: West Atlantic and East North Central states. Data Dairy herds declined in all regions except Northeast North Central and South Central regions. on Newschart from U.S. Department of Agriculture.

June 30, the agency has made about 9,000 such loans, totaling about $75 million. The government has made an additional $20 million available for the remainder of the current fiscal year.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Corn prices bobbed above levels of a year ago last week, apparently in expectation that this year's crop will be down from last year's curtailed one.

Prices moved up from 1 to 4 cents a bushel at principal markets. An Agriculture Department market review commented, "Some of the strength was attributed to trade opinion that acreage for this year's production will be down."

The department has given farmers in many states until April 14 to sign agreements to retire corn and sorghum grain land under a surplus reduction program. Farmers retiring land get payments and price supports. The signup of corn land has been lagging behind year earlier levels.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Production of red meats during the first two months of this year was 4.6 billion pounds, up 5 per cent from a year earlier. The Agriculture Department said beef production was up 5 per cent, veal down 3 per cent, pork up 6 per cent and lamb and mutton down 6 per cent.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Dry milk continues to make inroads on the markets for evaporated milk, the Agriculture Department reports.

Dry milk production during the first two months of this year was at a record high, 21 per cent above a year earlier. Production of canned evaporated milk has dropped to the lowest level since 1936. It was down 2 per cent during January and February from a year earlier.

Columbiana Mayor Calls For Patriotic Observance

COLUMBIANA — Mayor Lee Harrold has signed the proclamation of the American Legion approving the local observance of "Bells Across the Nation" Day April 19.

The day which is celebrated as Patriots' Day, commemorating Paul Revere's ride, in Massachusetts will be observed by a 4-minute demonstration beginning at 1 p.m. with the sounding of whistles, sirens, and church bells.

Legion Post Commander Richard Winegard said that other local organizations, the Rotary, Kiwanis, Junior Chamber, VFW, Chamber of Commerce, Ministerial Association and schools, are cooperating in the observance.

Plans for the Fireman's School in Columbiana are nearly complete. Twenty-one men will take the 11-week course, three hours per week.

The school will cost $136., with $68.00 being paid by the state of Ohio, plus the instructor's fee and his transportation.

The date of the first class has not been set.

THE LOCAL GIRL SCOUT Troop sponsored by the Friendly Class of the Grace United Church of Christ will plant the flowers in the Square as one of their projects this year.

A total of $175.40 was paid to the village treasury in March: Mayor's fines and costs, $72.40; ticket book fines, $12; licenses, $50; building permits, $7.50; inspection fees, $33.50.

Water Receipts Up; Sewage Revenue Dips

Water receipts were up but sewage revenue showed a slight decrease during March, according to the monthly report presented to City Council Tuesday night by Utilities Superintendent Aubrey Hayes.

Water receipts jumped from $14,384.66 in February to $15,378.06 last month, while sewage collections dropped from $7,488.35 to $7,202.41. There were 37,220,000 gallons of water pumped in March, compared to 33,596,000 the previous month.

Water pumpage for the first three months this year totaled 108,142,000 gallons. First quarter water receipts were $43,500.41, while sewage receipts for the same three months came to $21,379.36.

TESTIMONY EXPECTED

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. (AP)—Several days' more testimony is expected in a National Labor Relations Board hearing involving WHIN-TV of Huntington, which got under way Tuesday. The National Association of Broadcast Employees and Technicians, AFL-CIO, complained the television station engaged in unfair labor practices.

NLRB trial examiner John H. Eadie of Washington is conducting the hearing in Cabel County Common Pleas Courtroom. The union alleges WHIN-TV officials overstepped their bounds in several respects before and during an 88-day strike that ended March 4.

Operator Gets Phone Award

Honored for Duty 'Beyond the Call'

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The resourcefulness a Morrow County night telephone operator displayed in discovering and reporting a fire has won her the eighth annual "Beyond the Call" award.

The award, sponsored by the Ohio Independent Telephone Association, was to be presented today to Mrs. Mary McKibbin of Rt. 3, Marengo.

The association, in its 67th annual convention here, said Mrs. McKibbin's actions saved several business properties in Mount Gilead last December.

In the predawn hours of Dec. 21, the citation reads, Mrs. McKibbin's suspicions were aroused when she failed to receive response to a line light associated with a restaurant near the telephone exchange of the Ohio Central Telephone Corp. She investigated and located the fire in the restaurant.

The operator turned in a fire alarm, then contacted many of the businessmen whose places were threatened, giving them an opportunity to save valuable records.

The association honored 18 of its 5 member companies for outstanding safety records during 1961. They are:

Ashtabula Telephone Co., Bascom Mutual Telephone Co., Camden Rural Telephone Co., Centerville Telephone Co. of Jacobsburg, Conneaut Telephone Co., Elyria Telephone Co., Fayetteville Telephone Co.

New Bavaria Mutual Telephone Co., Nova Telephone Co., Oakwood Mutual Telephone Co., Ohio Telephone Service Co. of Greenville, Orwell Telephone Co., Otterville Mutual Telephone Co., Ridgeville Telephone Co. and Sycamore Telephone Co.

BLIND BARTIMAEUS

"... And as he went out of Jericho with his disciples and a great number of people, blind Bartimaeus, the son of Timaeus, sat by the highway side begging."

—Mark X:46

As it is to this day in the Holy Land, blindness was a common affliction in the time of Jesus.

It is easy to imagine the unpleasant appearance of Bartimaeus, the blind beggar of Jericho—the sightless, staring eyes, encrusted with dried secretion and infested with flies.

Probably the disciples turned away from him in disgust. But Jesus perceived the strong light of faith that shone through his inner darkness, and led him, through his feelings, to know that he was in the presence of the Master.

It is evident that Bartimaeus did so recognize Jesus, for he addressed Him by his Messianic title:

"Jesus, thou Son of David, have mercy on me."

Mark tells in his gospel that "many charged him that he should hold his peace." But blind Bartimaeus, groping towards the Radiance that suddenly shone in the heaven of his personal night, would not be suppressed. He cried out louder than ever.

"And Jesus stood still, and commanded him to be called. And they call the blind man, saying unto him, Be of good comfort, rise; he calleth thee."

"And he, casting away his garment, rose, and came to Jesus."

"And Jesus answered and said unto him, What wilt thou that I should do unto thee? The blind man said unto him, Lord, that I might receive my sight."

"And Jesus said unto him, Go thy way; thy faith hath made thee whole. And immediately he received his sight, and followed Jesus in the way."

In our day, it is by such faith as that of this blind beggar of Jericho that we receive our spiritual sight, and can follow Him "in the way."

Harroff Furniture Store's Open House Is Scheduled

The Harroff Furniture Store, which has been previously operated the National E. State St. and N. Lincoln Ave., will hold an "open house" and grand opening sale Thursday through Saturday, according to Jack Harroff, owner.

The store, formerly Arbaugh's, was purchased by Harroff, owner of the former National Furniture Store, in October. However remodeling and re-stocking of the store has delayed the grand opening until this weekend.

Harroff, who purchased the store from Thomas Howett, previously operated the National charge of the floor covering department of the store. Miller had previously been with the Joe Bryan Floor Covering for 11 years and with the R. S. McCulloch Co.

Donald Anderson is the store's service manager and W. Bentley is assistant service manager. Eleanor Kupka is secretary.

The inside of the store has been completely remodeled and redecorated and will handle every phase of furniture and floor coverings.

Two Salem Entries Eliminated In United Cage Tourney

Johnny's, Old Dutch Blasted

6 Third Round Tilts Scheduled Tonight

Both Salem entries in the independent division of the seventh annual United Booster Club's basketball tournament were dropped by the wayside Tuesday night in the second round of play.

Eliminated last night were Old Dutch by Sheeley's Speed Queen of Canton 62-39 and Johnny's Ashland by American Billiards of East Liverpool 72-49.

In other action in second round play, Leetonia dumped Carrollton 51-42 in the teacher's bracket, and Cornecki's AC of Beaver Falls trounced the Damascus All-Stars 137-40. Wellsville Shaffer Trucking belted Wooster Pierce's Sport Shop 78-39, and Orsburn's Mark II was nipped by Pisanello's Lunch of Alliance 44-39 in the independent bracket.

Lee Stockon's Collegians of Canton and Bright's Real Estate of East Liverpool teams withdrew from the tourney last night and were replaced by Orsburn's and the Damascus All-Stars. The Carrollton quintet was also a late entry in the teacher's division.

Sheeley's of Canton pulled away from Old Dutch in the final quarter after both squads battled closely for three periods. The winners led all the way by quarter counts of 14-9, 26-23 and 44-31.

JIM MAY, Joe Herrod and John Balboa each garnered 12 points for the Canton quint, while Dale Barnett was featuring for Old Dutch with 13 tallies.

Big John Riser of University of Pittsburgh fame and Herb Lake of Youngstown University were too tough for Johnny's Ashland. Riser pumped in 30 markers, while Lake added 18. Dave Hunter of Salem, cage great at William & Mary College this past season, sparked the losers with 12 counters.

The East Liverpool combine led at every quarter stop after a very close first period by scores of 13-12, 36-16 and 49-34.

In the third independent tilt last night, a group of Kent State University cagers, playing under the Wellsville Shaffer Trucking banner had little trouble with Pierce's Sports Shop of Wooster as they led at every quarter stop 22-9, 44-17 and 66-29.

Harry Reynolds and Harvey Hunt paced the winners with 18 and 16 tallies respectively, while Lou Wims and Denny Galehouse meshed 10 each for the losers.

EVERY PLAYER on the Cornecki AC team hit in double figures as they humbled the Damascus All-Stars by the 137-40 count. Jeter Hall and Sam Peslut were the big guns with 38 and 30 markers respectively. Bill Brown bagged 12 to lead the losers.

In last night's finale, Orsburn's battled Pisanello's closely all the way before losing 44-39. The score was tied at 9-all after one period, with the winners holding the margin 19-15 at halftime and 30-28 after three quarters.

John Brunovich paced the winners with 15 points, while John Hanna of United High featured for the losers with 22 markers.

In the only teacher's bracket game of the night, late-entering Carrollton fell quickly to a tough Leetonia squad 51-42. Leetonia led all the way by quarter counts of 13-10, 27-18 and 41-24.

Virg Roman meshed 16 points to pace the winners, with Jim McElroy getting a high of 17 for the losers.

Play will continue tonight with the following card:

Arcaro Quits Saddle After 30 Years

By JOHN CHANDLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Eddie Arcaro, one of the great athletes of modern times, has come to the end of his brilliant career after 30 years in the saddle. But, he might have stuck around another year if Jaipur had been nominated for the Kentucky Derby.

The great 46-year-old jockey made official his retirement Tuesday night.

Arcaro probably has ridden more great horses than any jockey in American turf history. He quit as the greatest money rider of all time. No other rider has won five Kentucky Derbies, six Preakness and six Belmont stakes.

"But," he said, "I sincerely believe that if Mr. Widener was going to run Jaipur in the derby, I'd have stayed around another year."

Jaipur was one of the top 2-year-olds of 1961, and Arcaro rode him. But George D. Widener, chairman of The Jockey Club and former president of Belmont Park has a consuming desire to win the Belmont Stakes.

He didn't name Jaipur for the May 5 derby, and the colt hasn't raced since last fall.

Arcaro listed three main reasons for retiring:
"One, I'm 46 years old.
"Two, I became bored with riding.
"Three, I had this business opportunity."

He will be field representative for the American Totalisator Co., which leases the "tote" machines at race tracks.

Arcaro's mounts earned a total of $1,606,707 in 1961, and his 10 per cent gave him a salary of $160,670.

"I feel like I'm leaving on top. If you had to mention the top five riders in the country today, I'm ham enough to think I'd have to be among them."

West Branch Boosters Honor Cagers

Wilson Picked 'Most Valuable'

Dennis, Hendricks Also Get Awards

Seniors Dan Dennis and Chuck Wilson and sophomore Dan Hendricks walked off with all the major cage awards at the West Branch Booster Club's annual basketball banquet in the high school Tuesday night.

Dennis, a 6-0 forward on this season's Warriors quintet, was awarded trophies from the high school as "Best Foul Shooter" and "Best Rebounder," a trophy from the Boosters Club as top scholar on the team, and the Alliance Review's trophy award as "Most Outstanding Player" on the squad.

Wilson, also a 6-0 forward this year, received the "Most Valuable Player" trophy from the high school. Sophomore guard Hendricks was honored by the high school as the "Most Improved Player."

Some 150 persons turned out to honor the 1961-62 West Branch cagers, who finished the campaign with a 13-6 varsity mark and an 18-0 reserve record.

Main speaker on the program was Joseph McMullen, associate professor of education and assistant financial vice president of the University of Akron.

McMullen presented a humorous talk on his earlier coaching and playing days, and also passed on tips to the boys present on qualities of fine athletes. He stressed the factors of cooperation, honesty, ability, motivation, perseverance and spirit in building "champs."

Head Basketball Coach Joe Tucker thanked the Boosters Club and the fans for their support during the year, and also thanked the players for their outstanding cooperation.

Presented varsity awards by Coach Tucker were the following cagers:

First year — Dave Knoedler, Bill Bedell, Jim Riesen, Tom Roberts, Phil Sharp and Dan Hendricks; second year — Dan Dennis, and Dick Wallace; and third year — Chuck Wilson.

Reserve Coach Ralph Zurbrugg presented varsity awards to the following:

PRESENTED certificates by Freshman Coach Bill Young were:

James Wallace, Bob Buttermore, Daryl Loudon, Dennis Tedrow, Jack Benner, Cecil Bailey, Homer Ewing, Wayne Wyss, Day Dalton, James Massolini, Robert McLaughlin, Lou Glosio, Dale Baker, Earl Hardy, Lynn Hively, Bob Rusco, Bob Votaw, Gary

odds caught up with Paret. At 1:55 a.m. a nurse walked out of the special care unit at Roosevelt Hospital and told Paret's manager, Manuel Alfaro, softly:

"He's dead."

So today, burial plans are being made for him while crowds mill around the funeral home in the Spanish-speaking section of the city. Paret will be buried in Miami where he made his home.

The distraught Griffith also said he would pay his respects and offered any kind of help to Paret's widow, Lucy, who is expecting her second child in about five months.

"I will do everything in my power to help," said Griffith. "That means money or any other assistance I can render."

Griffith said, shocked as he was at the turn of events, he was not planning on retiring.

"But," he said, "it will be some time before I fight again." Meantime New York Dist. Atty. Frank Hogan stepped up his investigation "to determine if culpable negligence is involved."

And at Vatican City, L'Osservatore Romano, the Vatican daily newspaper commented editorially that professional boxing is "an immoral sport" that "cannot be absolved" in Paret's death.

9-Game Total of 1958 Rolled by Bowler

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP)—Pat D'Apollito of Hillsdale, N.J., jolted the American Bowling Congress tournament out of a siege of doldrums Tuesday by piling up a nine-game total of 1958, enough to earn second place in the regular all-events.

The 32-year-old tailor rolled 684 in the team event Monday night and returned to shoot 618 in the doubles and 656 in the singles.

Despite his big total, D'Apollito was still far off the 2007 pace set by southpaw John Blum of Austin, Minn., March 7.

D'Apollito also paired with Henry Martin, 40, for the best regular doubles total of the day, 1276. Martin supplied 658.

Alou Tags 5th Homer In 3 Games As Giants Rip Tribe

By MIKE RATHET

Felipe Alou, flashy San Francisco outfielder who with brother Matty learned to play baseball in the streets of the Dominican Republic, is threatening to give the Giants the most feared 1-2-3 hit-

Bell Gives Up 6 Runs In Loss To Giants

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — "You can take this message back to the home folks: Bell shall return and he'll be okay when the bell rings."

That was Cleveland pitcher Gary Bell's comment to reporters after he was mauled by San Francisco batters in the Indians' 8-3 loss Tuesday. He gave up six runs before being yanked with none out in the fourth inning.

"The only thing that's wrong with me is my control," was Bell's analysis. "My arm feels good. It felt better today than it has all spring."

The most crushing blow against Bell was Felipe Alou's two-run homer in the fourth inning. Bell was taken out after walking the next two batters.

The Indians received word Tuesday that pitcher Jim (Mudcat) Grant would be granted military leave to play every Saturday and Sunday.

Grant has been working out at Fort Belvoir, Va. He will be allowed to play all games in Baltimore and Washington, which are near Fort Belvoir.

Jim Perry was slated to hurl against the Giants today. Sam McDowell will pitch against the Giant's B team.

Brown Not Pleased at '62 Schedule

CLEVELAND (AP)—Cleveland Browns Coach Paul Brown isn't too pleased over the prospect of playing the National Football League's defending champion New York Giants in the 1962 season opener.

A 14-game schedule has been announced by the league.

The Browns are tied in overall play with the Giants; each team has won 11 games and tied two. They will open here Sunday, Sept. 16. The Giants beat the Browns 37-21 in their first meeting last year and they tied 7-7 in the closing game of the season.

"We had hoped to build up to that game," Brown said Tuesday. "We have made a number of changes while indications are that the Giants will be pretty much a net team."

The rest of the Browns' schedule:

Sept. 23—Washington Redskins, at Cleveland; Sept. 30—Philadelphia Eagles, at Philadelphia; Oct. 7—Dallas Cowboys, at Cleveland; Oct. 14—Baltimore Colts, at Cleveland; Oct. 21—St. Louis Cardinals, at St. Louis; Oct. 28—Pittsburgh Steelers, at Pittsburgh; Nov. 4—Philadelphia, at Cleveland; Nov. 11—Washington, at Washington; Nov. 18—St. Louis, at Cleveland; Nov. 25—Pittsburgh at Cleveland; Dec. 2—Dallas, at Cleveland; Dec. 9—New York, at New York; Dec. 15—San Francisco 49ers, at San Francisco.

Twelve Named To Grid Hall of Fame

NEW YORK (AP) — Former Coach Tuss McLaughry and Cal Hubbard, currently supervisor of umpires for the American Baseball League, headed a list of 12 new members of the Football Hall of Fame today.

McLaughry coached at Westminster, Pa., Amherst, Brown and Dartmouth.

The Hall of Fame now has 184 players and 49 coaches.

Ten of the 12 selectees still are living and are expected to be present when they are formally inducted at the annual awards dinner of the National Football Foundation in December.

Joining Hubbard, who played at Centenary, La., and Geneva, Pa., colleges, are quarterbacks Benny Lee Boynton, Williams 1917-1920, and W.E. Spears, Vanderbilt 1925-27; centers John McEwan, Army 1913-16 and Dan Hill, Duke 1936-38; halfback Guy Chamberlain, Nebraska 1913-15; and guard Joseph Routh, Texas A&M 1935-37; John E. Minds, a fullback and tackle for Penn from 1894-97; Phil King, Princeton quarterback 1890-93; Pat O'Dea, Wisconsin back and kicking artist, 1896-99 and Andrew Wyant, lineman who played five years at Bucknell and four at the University of Chicago.

ting attack in the National League

Ordinarily a line-drive hitter, the right-handed swinger has become a homer hammerer this spring, and added another long-ball threat to a team already well stocked in that department, with Orlando Cepeda and Willie Mays.

Alou tagged No. 8—his fifth in the last three games—Tuesday, a two-run shot that carried the Giants to an 8-3 victory over Cleveland at Tucson.

Alou has accounted for 24 RBI, a .462 batting average, and 65 total bases for an astounding 1,000 slugging percentage.

While Alou was continuing his outstanding spring performance, Billy O'Dell, 29, displayed top pitching form and became the 1st member of the Giants' pitching staff to go nine by fashioning a five-hitter against the Indians.

Other route-going performances were turned in by Roger Craig of the New York Mets and Moe Drabowsky of Cincinnati. Craig spaced nine hits in a 5-4 victory over Chicago's White Sox at Sarasota, but Drabowsky was beaten 5-0 by Minnesota at Orlando despite hurling a seven-hitter.

Elsewhere, Pittsburgh knocked off the New York Yankees 4-1 at Fort Lauderdale, St. Louis edged Detroit 7-6 at St. Petersburg, the Los Angeles Dodgers nipped Boston 2-1 at Scottsdale, Milwaukee belted Chicago's Cubs 8-6 at Mesa, Washington defeated Baltimore 6-4 at Miami, the Los Angeles Angels outlasted Houston 10-9 at Albuquerque and Philadelphia beat Kansas City 2-1 at Clearwater.

Bobby Gene Smith stroked a triple and two singles, driving in the winning run for the Mets in the seventh as they snapped the White Sox' six-game winning streak. Camilo Pascual and rookie Joe Bonikowski combined to hurl a six-hitter that beat the Reds by Don Mincher in the first game of the Twins the runs they needed.

Whitey Ford and Mickey Mantle were bedded with the flu as the Yankees bowed to the Pirates when catcher Don Leppert singled across two unearned runs in the seventh to snip a 1-1 tie. Cardinal shortstop Julio Gotay knocked in the tying and winning runs on an infield single with two out in the ninth against the Tigers.

Daryl Spencer hit a homer in the fifth and Ron Fairly doubled home the winner for the Dodgers in the eighth when the Red Sox' Lu Clinton misjudged the fly ball. Eddie Mathews broke out of his slump for his first extra base hits, slamming two homers and a double for five RBI in the Braves' triumph over the Cubs.

Willie Tasby cleared the bases with a pinch-hit double in the eighth as the Senators beat the Orioles with Pete Burnside, Claude Osteen and rookie Jim Hannan combining for a six-hitter. Lee Thomas' single in a five-run eighth-inning rally produced the winner for the Angels after the Colts had taken the lead with five in the top of the inning.

Chris Short and rookie Paul Brown limited the A's to five hits while John Callison provided the Phils' runs with a two-run homer in the eighth.

Baseball Rule Changes Discussed by Umpires

By JACK HAND

Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—The umpires have held several informal discussion periods during the exhibition baseball season, working on the new rules that were passed last December. The most important changes involve catcher's interference and obstruction plays. Under the old rules, interference with a batter by a catcher—or any fielder—entitled the batter to first base without liability to be put out. The new rule gives the manager of the batting team an option to decline the interference penalty and accept the play.

Larry Napp, veteran American League umpire, explained it this way: "Suppose there is a runner on

OUT OF DOORS with Field & Stream

By RUFUS LIDE

Today (Sunday) as this is being written I got a call from a Lake Guilford resident saying some sort of a sea monster has been spotted in Lake Guilford. It was about 30 feet long with a horn on the end of its nose, the head two feet wide with fangs a foot long, and webbed feet something like a duck, he said.

I had no trouble identifying this monster from all descriptions as being a Lipra Loof. I asked the caller if he was sure he was sober and he assured me he was. Before I got too excited I happened to think that the Lipra Loof doesn't exist. In case you haven't caught on, just spell the name backwards.

LET IT SNOW, let it snow, the more we have the least to go! Maybe if we get the normal precipitation early in the spring we might have ideal weather within a short time and the fish will really be hungry. At least you can try for muskies at Leesville Dam or Deer Creek, or even go after the northern pike in Atwood Dam. Recent test nettings at Atwood proved there is an abundance of northern, according to Carroll County Game Protector Ronnie Miller. Over fifty were taken in the nets, many of them in the nine pound class. They usually bite when other game fish seem to be on a hunger strike, survive any kind of winter weather and winter birds since they can I never could see feeding the native winter birds since they can survive any kind of weather. But at this time of year when the snow falls, and you see a bunch of robins, redwing blackbirds and other migrators that made the mistake of returning north too soon, it would be very nice to scatter a few spotted apples or any kind of grain out where the birds can get a belly full of food to tide them over.

YOU NEVER know what will show up in the way of rare birds at this time of the year. On the lot across the road where I live, I saw a mockingbird perched on top of one of those metal swings. Where he came from or where he is going, I will never know. That makes five I have seen within the past year, but I haven't heard of any nesting in this section of Ohio.

I have had numerous calls from people who say they have several hen pheasants on their premises but no cock birds. Let me say this, if there are hens around the cocks will find them.

The mating season has begun and if you listen real early in the morning and towards dark chances are you will hear a cock bird crowing. All you need to do is hear one old rooster crow and the hens will go to him. One cock bird may have a harem of 12 to 20 hens. And when he sounds off this is his warning to all other cock birds to stay away from his crowing grounds or expect one whale of a fight.

Softball Association Elects New Officers

Election of officers for the coming year highlighted a meeting of the Salem Softball Association Monday evening in the Memorial Building.

Officers elected were: Joe Yuhaniak, president; Jim Harrigan, vice president; Charles DelVecchio, executive secretary, and Tom Butler, secretary-treasurer. Administrative problems of the association were discussed by the group and several methods of improvement were drawn up in operating the softball league this year.

The group's next meeting will be April 16. All persons interested in participating or sponsoring a team are asked to attend the meeting.

Seeks 3rd Title In 5 Years

Palmer 8-1 Favorite In Masters Golf Event

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — Arnold Palmer, who is not scared of the devil himself, goes after his third Masters golf title in five years Thursday with a couple of serious concerns — Augusta National's formidable greens and Jackie Nicklaus.

"The greens are going to fool a lot of people," the tournament favorite from Latrobe, Pa., said today. "They've changed the texture on some of the greens and, while I don't think they'll be any faster, they're going to be harder to read."

The Bermuda greens on the last nine holes of the golf course were sowed with a different type grass intended to give them a smoother putting surface. The first nine greens were left unchanged.

"My putting is the only thing bothering me," said Palmer, an 8-1 pre-tournament choice against a lineup of some 100 of the world's best amateur and professional golfers. "My only consolation is that I know the other fellows will be having trouble on the greens, too."

Asked who he thought might give him the toughest run for it, Palmer was quick with the answer.

"Well, Nicklaus has to be reckoned with. I've been playing with him in practice. He has been hitting the ball a ton. If he can putt these greens, he can be awfully tough."

Besides Palmer and Nicklaus, the most highly regarded contenders are Ben Hogan, whose improved putting has projected him into a threatening role at the age of 49; Doug Sanders, the Georgian with the so-called telephone booth swing, and Bill Casper Jr., former National Open champion who is giving the boys putting lessons in practice.

Lakers Nip Pistons For Finals Berth

DETROIT (AP) — The Los Angeles Lakers made it into the National Basketball Association playoffs—but only after they nearly turned Coach Fred Schaas into a cardiac case.

The Lakers lost a 24-point lead before they licked the Detroit Pistons 123-117 Tuesday night and captured their best-of-seven Western Division final series 4-2.

Los Angeles won the first three games of the series, lost the next two and came within a whisker of having Detroit tie up the whole thing.

Now the Lakers must await the outcome of the Eastern Division finals, knotted 33, between the Boston Celtics and the Philadelphia Warriors.

The Warriors beat Boston 109-99 Tuesday night. The rubber seventh game will be played Thursday in Boston with the Lakers starting the championship series with the winner Saturday.

This And That

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Jumping to conclusions:

Many of the world's top restaurants have one thing in common—they are usually dimly lit. Why?

One theory is that it satisfies an unconscious human need—that from his caveman past man has enjoyed eating his food in the dark.

A more probable reason is that middle-aged women, who control the spending of the real folding money, don't feel comfortable under bright lights that cruelly show their years.

According to a recent news story, it now costs from $300 up to give a cat or dog a stylish funeral. But isn't anyone who spends that kind of money to bury a pet a victim of twisted emotions and mistaken values?

One sign that the population is getting older is the wide popularity of the New York Mets baseball team, managed by Casey Stengel, the pinup boy for girls over 65. Everyone who has ever had a twinge of rheumatism is rooting for the old-timer to make a comeback.

Conformity has reached a point where some men today are afraid to wear a red necktie for fear someone will think they are secret Communists.

You can't really trust a man who orders a martini with a cherry in it instead of an olive or onion. He's bound to be a showoff.

Most of the people who denounce today's teen-agers couldn't attend classes with them and pass the tests they do.

The best way to cure an introverted boy with an inferiority complex is to sign him up for a hitch in the U.S. Marines. No other organization does a better or quicker job of building up self-confidence.

Every hatcheck girl dreams of marrying a playboy millionaire, but after 10 years of standing on her feet she's usually glad to let a waiter or a musician put the ring on her finger.

Children seemed much more manageable in the old days when parents customarily put castor oil in their orange juice.

Mankind, despite the dismays of this world, remains incurably optimistic. Ask 10 passing people to give the meaning of life in a single word, and more than half will choose "love," "happiness," or "hope."

The Doctor Says

By Dr. H. T. HYMAN

Science May Make People Taller

Although we keep assuring one another that "good things come in small packages," we often seem to place great value on tallness except in the case of our daughters.

Mothers take delight in noting the increasing height of their sons. Girls want the boy friend to be tall as well as dark and handsome. Most movie stars are six-footers. And with a few notable exceptions candidates for high political office are "big men."

Now science gives promise of one day making short men tall! We've known for years that growth is controlled by our old friend the pituitary master gland. And scientists have even gone so far as to identify an anterior pituitary principle called human growth hormone or HGH. But the pituitary gland is a tiny organ, not much bigger than a medium-sized grape. And the job of extracting HGH has been very difficult.

FOR REASONS NOT completely understood, the only growth hormones that could be used for the long periods of time required to note effects are those obtained from higher apes and from man himself. Hormones obtained from the usual animal sources—cattle, horses and sheep—have proved unsatisfactory for prolonged treatment.

Over the course of the past few years, encouraging reports have been forthcoming from the Tufts University School of Medicine where carefully controlled studies have been carried out by Dr. M. S. Raben, under a grant from the National Institute for Arthritis and Metabolic Diseases.

BRIEFLY STATED, Dr. Raben has been able to speed the growth of certain dwarfs and of a small series of five very short children who were "judged to be normal apart from their stature."

Encouraged by the favorable results to date, more extensive trials are promised. But, until it is possible to obtain HGH from sources other than human pituitary glands, progress will be slow and very few of the thousands who desire treatment can be accommodated.

Nevertheless the breakthrough has been made. And, from past experiences, once a principle has been identified, it should not be long before chemists identify and then reconstruct the formula of the active agent.

Once these steps are accomplished, boy friends who are "tall, dark and handsome" will and then the rage will be for "good things in small packages."

Black Bottom Cups

Even though you may have heard of Black Bottom cups before, you'll enjoy being reminded of them. The recipe comes from Mrs. Leonard E. Geisert of Lakewood, Calif. It won her a cash prize in the 1961 Grand National Recipe and Baking Contest. Take a bite and you'll understand why the judges awarded it to her.

BLACK BOTTOM CUPS

(Makes 2 dozen cupcakes)
1 cup (8-ounce package) soft cream cheese, room temperature, 1 unbroken egg, 1-1/2 cups sugar, 3/4 teaspoon salt, 1 cup (6-ounce package) semisweet chocolate pieces, 1/2 cups sifted all-purpose flour, 1/4 cup cocoa, 1 teaspoon soda, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1 cup water, 1-3 cup cooking oil, 1 teaspoon vinegar, 1 teaspoon vanilla. Sugar, Almonds, chopped.

Combine in mixing bowl, cream cheese, egg, 1-3 cup sugar, and 1/2 teaspoon salt; beat well. Stir in chocolate pieces; set aside. Sift flour, 1 cup sugar, cocoa, soda and 1/2 teaspoon salt into mixing bowl. Combine water, cooking oil, vinegar and vanilla. Add to dry ingredients; mix well.

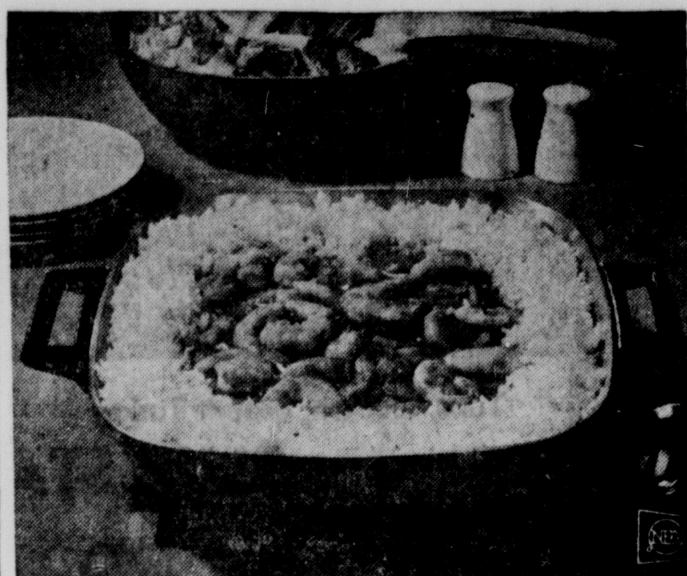

Fill muffin cups, lined with paper baking cups, one-third full with chocolate batter. Top each with heaping teaspoonful cream cheese mixture. Sprinkle with sugar and almonds, if desired. Bake at 350 degrees F. (moderate) for 30 to 35 minutes.

WINS $10,000 JUDGMENT

LORAIN, Ohio (AP)—Fred H. Smith has won a $10,000 judgment in a seven-year battle against the village of LaGrange.

The judgment was awarded by a Lorain County Common Pleas Court jury Tuesday against the village and Robert H. Abramson, manager of a waterworks built on land appropriated from Smith. Smith claimed he had been unlawfully arrested for trespassing on the land and that Abramson had ordered the arrest.

Try Shrimp Tahiti For Lent

The season of Lent means frequent meatless dishes.

Those dishes of fish and seafood (fresh, canned or frozen) can be interesting, different and very pleasant to eat.

Here's one you've never heard of before. It's a shrimp dish delicately flavored with a little peanut butter. Sound odd? Well just taste it. Your palate will be delightfully surprised.

SHRIMP TAHITI

(MAKES 6 servings)
2 tablespoons peanut or other vegetable oil, 1/4 cups diced onion, 2 tomatoes, peeled and diced,

2 teaspoons salt, 1/4 teaspoon crushed red pepper, 1/2 bay leaf, 1 8-ounce can tomato sauce, 2 pounds raw shrimp, peeled, 1/2 cup hot water, 1/2 cup chunk style peanut butter, 3 cups hot cooked rice.

Heat oil in large skillet; add onion and saute over low heat until tender but not browned. Add tomatoes, salt, red pepper, bay leaf and tomato sauce. Cover and simmer 15 minutes. Add shrimp.

Blend hot water with peanut butter and add to mixture. Cover and simmer 10 minutes longer. Serve over rice.

Date Pecan Squares

You can serve this sweet fresh from the oven with whipped cream; or you can store it a few days in a tightly covered container and offer it as cookie bars.

2 cup sifted flour, 1 teaspoon baking powder, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 2 eggs, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 1 cup firmly packed light brown sugar, 1 package (8 ounces) pitted dates (finely cut) 1 cup pecans (coarsely chopped)

Sift together the flour, baking powder and salt. Beat eggs until thick and ivory colored; beat in the vanilla, then gradually the sugar. Fold in the sifted dry ingredients, dates and pecans.

Turn into a 9-inch square baking pan. Bake in a moderate (350 degrees) oven until cake tester inserted in center comes out clean—45 minutes. Cool in pan; cut into squares; remove with spatula.

NO BURGLAR ALARM

CLEVELAND (AP)—Lt. Thomas A. White, the police officer in charge of investigating the weekend burglary of $19,535 from the Broadview Savings & Loan Co. branch, says the office was not protected by a burglar alarm. The burglars had drilled a 3/4-inch hole in the safe door. The FBI has entered the case.

The chow dog was bred in China.

Rogers Council Tables Plans For Water-Sewage Plant

ROGERS — Village Council, at its regular meeting Monday night at Community Hall, voted to table plans to build a water and sewage disposal plant in Rogers due to the high cost.

According to a rough estimate given by Willard F. Schade and Associates of Cleveland, the plant would cost between $16,000 and $26,000 annually for 30 years.

Rogers residents now get their water from private wells. Sewage is handled by septic tanks and outhouses.

Council passed an emergency legislation last night an ordinance which detaches from the village several lots on the north-west side of the community, just off Rt. 7. There had been a legal question as to whether the property concerned ever was within the village limits.

Resolutions were adopted urging the U.S. Corps of Engineers to begin as soon as possible (1) Construction of the Lake Erie to Ohio River interconnecting waterway and (2) Completion of Rt. 11 between East Liverpool and Rt. 170.

Mayor Robert McCreary led a discussion on the possibility of installing restrooms on the community square. The legislators decided to look further into the matter.

Also discussed was the yellow blinker traffic light which the village wants to install at the crest of a hill on Rt. 7. The light has been purchased, but it can not be installed until permission is granted by the Ohio Department of Highways.

Albert Starkey, street commissioner, said village streets will be swept as soon as weather permits.

Mayor McCreary and Councilmen Everett Galbreath, Wallace Sweeney and Edward Galbreath will meet with the Columbiana county commissioners in Lisbon at 10:30 a.m. Saturday to see about getting some work done on village streets which are in need of repairs.

Forms were received from the Columbiana County Board of Health for residents wishing to file complaints on various nuisances and health hazards in the village. Some residents have been complaining about such things as livestock being kept within the village limits, and the forms from the county are to be used for filing official complaints.

The Council ordered that bills amounting to $305.29 be paid.

All councilmen were present at last night's meeting. The next meeting will be 7 p.m. May 7 in the Community Hall.

CRISSCROSS RAISIN PIE (Makes 1 9-inch pie)

1 cup dark seedless raisins, 1/2 cups water, 1/2 teaspoon grated lemon rind, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, 1 teaspoon grated orange rind, 1/4 cup orange juice, 1/2 cup brown sugar, 3 tablespoons cornstarch, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1 buffet can (9-ounces) pineapple tidbits (2-3 cup fruit and 1-3 cup juice). Pastry for 2-crust, 9-inch pie. Granulated sugar.

Combine raisins, water, lemon rind, lemon juice, orange rind and orange juice in a saucepan; bring to boil, then reduce heat and simmer 5 minutes. Combine sugar, cornstarch and salt; stir into hot raisins.

Bring to a boil over low heat, stirring constantly; boil 1 minute or until mixture is clear. Remove from heat. Add pineapple tidbits and juice. Cool slightly.

Pour into a 9-inch pastry-lined pie plate. Arrange pastry strips across top of pie to form a lattice pattern.

Sprinkle pastry strips with granulated sugar. Carefully arrange a strip of foil over fluted edge to prevent boiling over. Bake in a very hot oven (450 degrees F.) 25 to 30 minutes. Serve warm.

Massillon Doctor Hits Stability of Electrical Service

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A Massillon doctor has complained to the Public Utilities Commission about the stability of electrical services supplied by the Ohio Edison Co.

A letter from the doctor, R. Kenneth Loeffler, a specialist in therapeutic radiology, was received by the commission Tuesday.

Dr. Loeffler asserted there have been "short, but frequent voltage fluctuations of great magnitude" in electrical power from Ohio Edison. He said he has recorded the voltages at various times of day and in various parts of the city and wants to submit the recordings as evidence at a commission hearing.

The company at first denied existence of any fluctuation, but recently its engineers admit fluctuations occur and "that many are correlated with the activities of the Massillon Steel Casting Co.," Loeffler said.

The Utilities Commission is treating the letter as a formal complaint, meaning the company has 14 days to reply and the commission then will schedule a public hearing on the matter. A spokesman said it is unusual for the commission to treat such a letter in this manner.

Loeffler said he has also made voltage recordings in Canton areas served by the Ohio Power Co. and found Canton's power is "extraordinarily stable, despite the existence of much larger industry."

He asks for a formal explanation of why Ohio Edison, "charging higher rates that does the Ohio Power Co., cannot supply current of equal stability."

The company has told Loeffler, he says, that the "fluctuations are within reasonable limits and that the expense to eliminate them would be prohibitive."

William Lilienthal and Sons of Cambridge received a contract to furnish a cash book for probate court on its bid of $142. This also was the low bid of five received. The commissioners next meeting will be Thursday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

RESIDENTS OF THE SALEM AREA!

Almost every day our girls and boys from the meat department come over to see how much more we have done in the new meat department. They can't wait to get over there where they can give the customers so much better service with more variety on display. They will be right out there where they can help you with your little problems of just what to buy, etc.
